

Design Decisions

I chose these designs for my portfolio wireframes because it seems easiest to navigate and look through, while not being boring or repetitive. I didn't want to get too over the top with each of my pages, because I didn't want to overload the page with too much information. The only page I might end up taking liberties with in the future when I actually sit down to create the portfolio, is the portfolio page itself. I like the way it is set up at the moment, but when I actually begin to put things on the page, I might end up hating the current layout, or tweaking things just a bit.
